

TELECOM AUDITS HOW TO SAVE 30%

Find out how much you can save by contacting sales@evo-stream.com

What is a Telecom Audit?

It's a detailed inspection of your organization's wireless and wireline assets including the contracts and invoices associated with each service. Auditors identify discrepancies in your charges and recover all money owed to your company. On average a telecom audit will yield 30% savings and your only obligation is to sign an LOA granting permission to our team to work with telcos on your behalf.

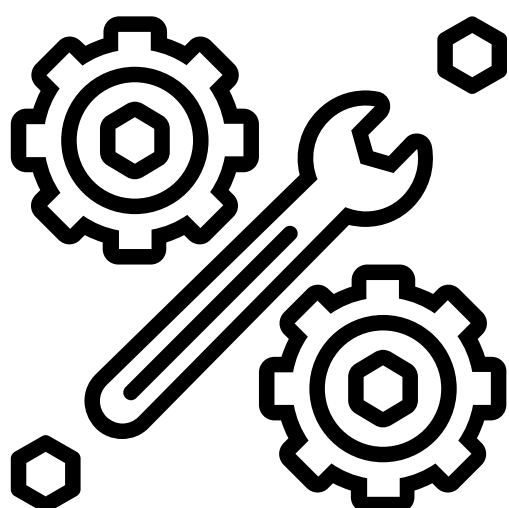

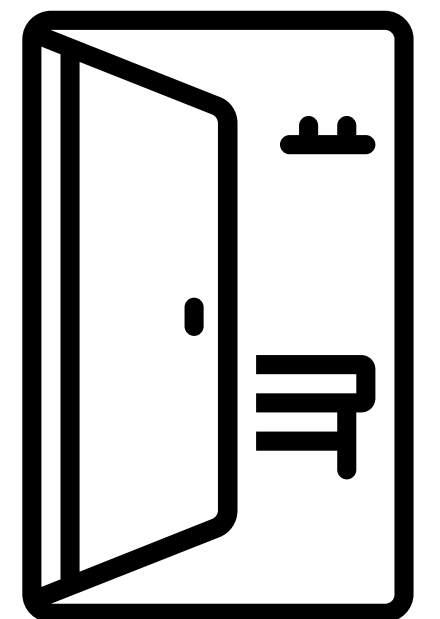

Work with Telecom Insiders

We will deploy a team of experts who have worked for the telecom carriers and understand the pitfalls of telecom expense management, taxes, surcharges and contract negotiations from the inside out.

Recovery & Maintenance

- Our analysts will collect and thoroughly review all of your old invoices and contracts. We itemize your inventory, identify all billing discrepancies and pursue historical credits dating back to the beginning of your contract. Next, we will implement stop gaps to maintain consistency across all of your service charges.

Negotiations & Bids

- Preparing for a contract renewal or technology change requires a clear picture of your current inventory and cost structure. The audit will put money in your pocket to invest in future upgrades and our team can help prepare an RFI and manage negotiations with all prospective and existing service providers.
